The Mahy story:

When Ghislain Mahy bought his first car in 1944, he had no idea that his 1921 Ford T would be the beginning of a collection of more than 1000 vehicles by 2000. The first vehicles were housed for more than half a century in Ghent, at the old "Winter Circus" building. In 1986 230 of our mechanical gems were transferred to the Autoworld museum in Brussels where they remain on display even now. The remainder, approximately 750 vehicles, had to wait until 1997 for their new storage facility, which was to be the old "Ernaelsteen" factory in Leuze-en-Hainaut, the current Mahymobiles motor museum: veteran, vintage and classic cars, movie stars cars and cars from comic books, trucks, buses, chassis, miniatures, pedal cars, "grands-bis", bicycles, bikes, steam machines, horse-drawn carriages, sleighs... basically everything that relates to the automobile and road transport since 1895 is shown at Mahymobiles with 300 display vehicles. And more... early toys and hundreds of scale models, motorcycles, engines and chassis, bicycles and "Grands-bis", a gallery dedicated to the evolution of the coach building and the raids expedition. Another unique aspect: a breathtaking view from a gallery over part of the "reserves": hidden treasures that every visitor will want to see. After all this adventure, relax in the cafeteria, while the children play on the mini track. Thanks to the almost inexhaustible reserve (500 pieces), the displays are regularly rotated. So spread the word and come see us regularly at Leuze-en-Hainaut.
